

Dear Parent,

Your middle school student has requested permission to read books tagged as high school appropriate, aka “H” Books.

As the Secondary Library services grades 6-12 we have a wide assortment of material available to students for check out. As a result we mark books for checkout purposes using the “Accelerated Reader” rating system dividing our library into either “E” books for everyone or “H” books for High School Students.

Books classified with “H” labels are considered “Youth” appropriate using the Accelerated Reading system and may or may not contain the following:

- Foul language
- Sexual content
- Gangs
- Drugs
- Abuse

With these issues in mind do you give permission for your Middle School Student to have full access to books labeled “H”?

Yes, I give my son/daughter _____ my permission to check out “H” books for the Manson Secondary Library.
